where registration will take place from 5 - 7 p.m. on Wednesday, 27 January and from 8 - 9 a.m. on Thursday, 28 January 1999. Participants and observers are requested to present themselves at the meeting room with a passport or other identification containing a photograph. Badges will be issued entitling admission to the conference.

II. Hotel reservation

3. Participants are requested to make their own travel and hotel arrangements. Participants who book their rooms at the Steigenberger Kurhaus Hotel before 7 December 1998 are entitled to a special rate of DFL 290 per night, including breakfast, taxes and other hotel facilities. After 7 December 1998, room availability cannot be guaranteed and the rate will be increased to DFL 330 per night. A hotel reservation form will be sent together with the invitations. Please address the completed form to the hotel directly.

III. Documentation

4. The final agenda and other documentation will be made available on OLIS [CCNM/EMEF/EPOC/CIME(98)...] and on a special OECD Website, with the following address: http://www.oecd.org/daf/env/index.htm, from which they can be downloaded and printed. Therefore, no paper copies will be sent to participants. A limited number of copies will be available at the meeting. Participants are invited to provide background papers on the subject of the Conference and/or typescripts of their major interventions, including copies of their papers and interventions. These should be sent by e-mail to: daf.contact@oecd.org by 20 January 1999 to facilitate photocopying.

V. Procedural arrangements

Timetable

8. The Conference will start on Thursday, 28 January 1999, at 9.00 a.m., with opening addresses on behalf of the host country and the OECD. Participants and observers are requested to arrive early to facilitate registration. The Conference will continue and be concluded on Friday, 29 January 1999 by 5.00 p.m.

Language

9. The working language of the conference will be English.

Proceedings

10. On Thursday morning and Friday afternoon, there will be plenary sessions in the main meeting room. Parallel workshops will be held on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. Participants can indicate an order of preference for the workshops they would like to attend on the nomination form sent with the letter of invitation.

11. Each session will be opened by a lead speaker and a panel. A general discussion will follow in which all participants will have the opportunity to take the floor. The basic method for conducting the debate will be for the Chair to recognise requests to speak in the order in which name plates have been raised. Participants are requested to be brief their interventions.

12. Participants wishing to have the text of their oral statements or other documents distributed, should provide their texts to the organisers as early as possible for reproduction and distribution. If possible, the text should be sent by e-mail to daf.contact@oecd.org.

VI. Social events

13. Participants will be offered lunches during the conference. At the end of the first day, the Government of the Netherlands will invite participants to a cocktail reception.
