

HEINZ P. RUDOLPH,

Heinz P. Rudolph is Senior Financial Sector Specialist at the Financial and Private Sector Vice Presidency of the World Bank. He has been with the World Bank for the past six years. Funded pension systems and development bank institutions are his main areas of work. Between 1995 and 2004, he worked at the Ministry of Finance of Chile as a Director of Financial Policy, where he led the technical work on financial sector reforms in the areas of pensions, insurance, securities, and banking. He also led the government debt management strategy. He has several publications and he is author of two books. Mr. Rudolph received a Ph.D. in economics from Georgetown University.